Just an observation, but we are beginning to have duplicate files in different directories which, as we learned last time, can be a bit of a problem. I thought the J: drive was the main suppository of the data and everything would be taken from there? This is where I have been putting the files. If I am incorrect, or it really doesn't matter, let me know. I am good either way.

I have placed a copy of the COC in the J:drive folder. I have also copied all micro files to our I:Dimock drive.

This must be the final full data package. I saved it in J:\ESAT Downloaded data\Dimock\Micro Lab - May2012 and the file is named 1213584 1213687 1213978 QC.pdf.

Let me know if you have any questions.
